Ice Cube Painting

You will need some ready mixed paint, warm water, an ice cube tray and some lolly sticks (or something similar). Fill the ice cube tray 1/3rd of the way with the different coloured paints, then top up with warm water and stir to mix. Place a lolly stick (or something similar) into each section of the tray (to use as handles) and then freeze for 4-6 hours. Once the cubes are frozen you can use them to get creative! I wonder what you can paint, or maybe you could make patterns with the cubes and see what happens as they all melt? Send us some of your creations to share.
